

Prince Cinders

P prince Cinders was not much of a prince.
He was small, spotty, scruffy and skinny.

He had three big hairy brothers who were always teasing him about his looks.

They spent their time going to the palace disco with princess girlfriends.

They made poor Prince Cinders stay behind and clean up after them.

When his work was done, he would sit by the fire and wish he was big and hairy like his brothers.

One Saturday night, when he was washing the socks, a dirty fairy fell down the chimney.

“All your wishes shall be granted,” cried the fairy. “Ziz Ziz Boom, Tic Tac Ta, this empty can shall be a car.”

“Bif Bang Bong, Bo Bo Bo, to the disco you shall go!”

“That can't be right!” said the fairy. “Toe of rat and eye of newt, your rags will turn into a suit!”

(“Crumbs,” thought the fairy, “I didn't mean a SWIMSUIT!”)

“Your greatest wish I'll grant to you. You SHALL be big and hairy too!”

Prince Cinders got big and hairy all right!

“Rats!” said the fairy. “Wrong again, but I'm sure it all wears off at midnight.”

Prince Cinders didn't know he was a big hairy monkey because that's the kind of spell it was.

He thought he looked pretty good! So off he went to the disco.

The car was too small to drive but he made the best of it.

But when he arrived at the Royal Rave-up he was too big to fit through the door.

He decided to take the bus home.

A pretty princess was waiting at the stop.

“When's the next bus?” he grunted.

Luckily, midnight struck and Prince Cinders changed back into himself.

The princess thought he had saved her by frightening the big hairy monkey.

“Wait!” she shouted, but Prince Cinders was too shy. He even lost his trousers in the rush!

The princess was none other than the rich and beautiful Princess Lovelpenny. She put out a proclamation to find the owner of the trousers.

*The Princess Lovelpenny Decrees that she will marry whoever fits the trousers lost by the prince who saved her from being eaten by the Big Hairy Monkey.
Fitting sessions begin today.*

Every prince for miles around tried to force the trousers on.
But they wriggled about refused to fit any of them!

Of course Prince Cinders' brothers all fought to get into the trousers at once...

"Let him try", commanded the princess, pointing at Cinders.

"They won't fit that little squirt," sneered his brothers.

... But they did!

Princess Lovelpenny proposed immediately.

So Prince Cinders married Princess Lovelpenny and lived happily ever after...

And Princess Lovelpenny had a word with the fairy about his big hairy brothers... whom she turned into house fairies.

And they flitted around the palace doing the housework for ever and ever.

The story reverses, in a humorous way, the false myth of romantic love between the fragile and passive woman and the strong and liberating man, typical of traditional tales. It also challenges the patterns of masculinity socially accepted. The reversal of the situation, as opposed to the short story Cinderella, prompts a reassessment of the issues connected to inequality in gender relations.
